ABSTRACT

This is a directory of professional preparation programs in recreation, parks, and related areas. All institutions are alphabetically arranged under three different headings: institutions by state; institutions by educational level (B.A., M.A., Ph.D., A.A., Directorate, and Certificate); and institutions by options (such as camping, outdoor education, older citizens/aging, therapeutic/ill/handicapped). (JA)

PREFACE

This publication was undertaken in the spring of 1972 to increase the listings and information on curricula in parks, recreation, leisure, and cultural services throughout the United States. Jointly undertaken by the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation (AAHPER) and the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA), this publication updates the 1969 inaugural Professional Preparation Directory which listed 203 institutions. This edition identifies programs from 315 institutions.

The format has been enlarged to provide a quick reference to institutions. There are three listings – one presents institutions by state with mailing addresses, department identification and heads, phone numbers, population (1970-71 school year), and available course options; the second presents institutions by educational level; and the third listing is by options. The institutions listed here responded to the direction to identify any areas of specialization they may have with "area of specialization defined as a definitive area of study with several specialized courses complementing a required core area of general park/recreation classes."

Special thanks are due other allied associations and professional groups for their assistance in the wide distribution of the questionnaire which served as the basis for the listings–they include: the American Association of Junior Colleges, American Society of Foresters, Outdoor Education Project–AAHPER, SPRE-NRPA, National Community School Education Association, Association of College Unions-International, American Correctional Association, American Camping Association, Discover America Travel Organization, and the Center of Leisure Studies (University of Oregon) which served as the base of operation for the completion of this project.

Dr. Larry Neal served as project director and moved from the AAHPER headquarters to the University of Oregon midway through the compilation of the information. He is responsible for the editing of this directory which is designed to be an informational catalog and in no way reflects the quality of the degree programs listed or recognition of the accreditation status of the institutions cited. Dr. Donald Henkel of NRPA assisted with this project. The alphabetical listings of institutions by states, the inclusion of sublistings by degree-level course options and special program options were done in response to many requests in the national offices for such information. It is our conviction that this publication will serve student, faculty and practitioner in the field equally well and is a "must" reference for those serving the educational needs in the growing fields of parks, recreation, leisure, and cultural services.

National Recreation and Park Association Publications

(703) CURRICULUM CATALOG, The Second Biennial Directory of Park and Recreation Curriculums, by the Society of Park and Recreation Educators, NRPA. This is the most comprehensive single document relating to curriculums in parks and recreation. Information for each of the 116 curriculums listed in the catalog include: name, address and phone number of the department chairmen; institution's enrollment data and fees; park and recreation degrees offered; list of faculty; program emphasis, prerequisites for admission, degree requirements, major professional courses, financial assistance, etc. The catalog serves as a valuable reference to students, educators, guidance counselors, libraries, practitioners, and others interested in higher education relating to parks and recreation. $5.00

NRPA Members: $3.00

(671) WHERE THE ACTION IS National Recreation and Park Association. A handsome pamphlet designed to be distributed to students toying with the idea of entering the park and recreation field. (ea.) $.15

(676) PARKS & RECREATION, the official publication of the National Recreation and Park Association, is edited for executives, professional recreators, public officials, and community leaders with responsibility for management and policy or interest in development of private and public park and recreation facilities and programs at the local, county, state, and federal levels. Articles report on national issues, legislation, policies, and trends in the park and recreation segment of government and society. Editorial content encompasses management, technical advances, research, professional development, and NRPA programs. Practical aspects of operation and the planning and financing of new facilities and programs are featured.

Annual Subscription: $7.50

(578) ISLANDS OF HOPE, PARKS AND RECREATION IN ENVIRONMENTAL CRISIS by William E. Brown. An essay to spur thought and dialogue within the park and recreation profession, it leads park and recreation practitioners into "here and now" action for environmental reform. In major chapters on environmental management, interpretation, and education, ISLANDS OF HOPE details why park and recreation resources can no longer be viewed simply as refugees from deteriorated home environments. Rather, through environmental management and communications originating in these resources, they become models and catalysts for general environmental reform.

Paper: $3.95

NRPA Members: $3.45

(577) EDUCATING TOMORROW'S LEADERS IN PARKS, RECREATION AND CONSERVATION. Edited by Peter J. Verhoven. An interpretive report of the general attitudes and recommendations which resulted from dialogues and discussion at the National Forum on Preparing Tomorrow's Park, Recreation and Conservation Leaders. Topics include discussion of trends, resources and challenges and a list of recommendations geared to improve the training programs for leaders in the field. $5.00

NRPA Members: $2.50
